

Question 1

After Social Security reforms in 1983, the program had been put on the path of surpluses for the decades by the efforts of President Clinton to use surpluses to shore up the trust fund. President Bush changed this. What actions did he take? What was his motivation? What stopped his plans? What are the current attitudes today by the political parties and the public? How do you think these powers will influence the long term viability of the Social Security system?

Answer: <https://biology-forums.com/index.php?topic=1932720>

Question 2

America was formed originally as a limited democracy. Only white men of property could vote. Slaves counted as 3/5ths of a person and Native Americans did not count at all. What do you think our forefathers were basing these decisions of how America's democracy was formed? In modern society today, in what groups is the majority of power still held and why and what groups are still disenfranchised lack equality and power? Give examples and several ideas that could help facilitate change.

Answer: <https://biology-forums.com/index.php?topic=1932536>

Question 3

Are there any lessons from the treatment of immigrants in American history that can guide our response to contemporary immigrants?

Answer: <https://biology-forums.com/index.php?topic=1932479>